The Late Capt. Chas. M. Fauntleroy.

[From the Leesburg Mirror.]
Charles Magill Fauntleroy, formerly of the U. S. navy, and afterwards in the military and naval service of the Confederate States—died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Powell Harrison, in Leesburg, on Sunday night, 27th July, after a protracted and painful illness, in his 67th year.

He was the son of the late Gen. Thomas T. Fauntleroy—formerly Colonel of Dragoons, U. S. A.—and was a native of Winchester, Frederick county, Va.

He entered the U. S. navy as a midshipman in 1838, and rendered 23 years of nearly continuous service in it in many parts of the globe. He commanded two of the vessels engaged in the coast survey—was greatly distinguished for his gallantry at the taking of the fortress of San Juan d'Ulloa, Vera Cruz, and for other services in the Mexican war, and was noted for his ability and gallantry in every duty assigned to him.

On the secession of Virginia, his father and he resigned their commissions in the U. S. army and navy and entered the service of the Confederacy.

He was on Gen. Jos. E. Johnston's staff from the first Manassas until the battle of Seven Pines, where Johnston was wounded and disabled for the time.

He afterwards rendered eminently useful and important services in the navy of the Confederate States. He was sent out in the "Nashville" as second in command, and commanded her on her return, when he, with great skill and boldness, successfully brought her through the blockade into Beaufort harbor, S. C., loaded with the arms and munitions of war for the Confederacy, with which the battle of Corinth was fought. He was again on the staff of Gen. Johnston, who was in command of the army of the West and South, and who made him Inspector General of that army, when he was commissioned colonel in the Confederate States Army.

Subsequently he was sent to New Orleans and the lower Mississippi on important duties. At a later day he was sent to Europe on secret service, and was in command of the "Kappahanuck"—which was blockaded at Calais harbor. He was there when the war closed.

After his return to this country, he was in command of one of the Pacific mail steamers between San Francisco and Yokohama. For some years he has resided in this town with his widowed daughter.

He was a consistent and exemplary member of St. James P. E. Church.

THE ELIXIR OF LIFE.—Dr. W. A. Hammond, the distinguished physician, of Washington, is experimenting successfully with an elixir of life, discovered by Dr. Brown-Sequard, of Paris, and which is said to produce remarkable results in rejuvenating decrepit and aged persons. This youth-giving fluid is compounded from the most delicate portion of every animal's anatomy, that which is already known for its life giving qualities. Dr. Brown-Sequard secured his material from a guinea pig, whereas Dr. Hammond took the lamb for his use, which he believed to be superior to any other animal for the purpose to which he has put it. This material he places in a mortar, pounds to a pulp, and adding water distills an essence, which is administered to the patient by a hypodermic injection.

Dr. Hammond's subject is an old man, who is decrepit to an extreme degree. The treatment is exceedingly simple, and consists of an injection in the patient's leg every other day. The patient has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, this change having been marked on the third day after the application of the elixir was first made. Dr. Hammond says he has information from Paris to the effect that Dr. Variot has administered the elixir to decrepit individuals with the most astonishing results. The report states that they have become rejuvenated under the influence of the treatment.

Dr. J. Ewing Mears, demonstrator of surgery in Jefferson College, Philadelphia, says: "My opinion is that Dr. Brown-Sequard is a fraud, as he is known in his profession, is a fraud. It is impossible for this theory to be successful as it is to rejuvenate an old decayed trunk of a tree by engraving it with a young tree. The theory is simply absurd. Dr. Hammond knows it as well as I do. He is doing it for the money that is in it."
